

Issue 11 March 2009

Developments in Wales

Our congratulations go out to Creation Development Trust in Blaengarw for winning the British Urban Regeneration Association award for best practice in community inspired and led regeneration.

Two bus loads of members went down to the House of Lords in London to pick up their award on 20th March.

March also saw the launch of a new time bank "Time 4 Health" in Tredegar where members can spend time credits by getting involved in healthy activities such as squash and BMXing.

For more information contact info@timebankingwales.org.uk

New Chairperson

Martin Farrell will be stepping down as Chair of Timebanking UK shortly, so we're currently looking to recruit a new one.

We've put the advert on the website and are trying to circulate it as wide as possible. If anyone knows of anyone interested within timebanking circles, please get them to send a CV and covering letter to: executive@harrishill.co.uk

Fifth National Timebanking Conference

Spend time with the pioneers of timebanking and learn about the latest groundbreaking ideas for building a recession-proof local social network that you can rely on and trust.

Dr Edgar Cahn, founder of timebanking will be speaking after dinner on Saturday evening.

Friday 15th May - Saturday 16th May at The Blackpool Hilton.

The cost is £180 for TBUK members, (other prices vary). Includes all meals and two nights accommodation. If you book by 31st March you can deduct 10% for an earlybird discount.

Download booking form from the website www.timebanking.org

Aux Amis Français, Belges, Luxembourgeois, Anglais, Espagnols, Américains, Neo Zelandais?

Our international friends in Italy are offering translation in Italian, English, French and Esperanto.

They're also keen to receive any time bank bulletins to translate and spread the word.

Please contact Vico via email: vico@hemsi.libero.it